HOW KANSAS DOES

TOWN ROW BROKE OUT OVER MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

"WALKING CHALK" NOW

Factions Are After Each Other and Fines May Make Bond Issue Unnecessary.

Solomon, Kan., Aug. 25.—There is a town row on here that is making this town the very best, most moral and circumspect city in the state. One faction desired to issue bonds to buy an electric light and water plant. The other faction knocked on the proposition, and there was considerable bitterness. But the go-ahead people won and the bonds were voted, and the knockers got out an injunction that stopped further proceedings for the sale of the bonds and the building of the light and water plant.

Then began the moral wave and the indications are that by the time the court proceedings are completed there will be enough money in the city treasury to pay for the plant without any bonds. The two factions decided to make the members of the other faction walk a chalk line. If an anti-water works man so much as dared to drive his motor car half a block without all the lights burning he was hauled before the police court the next morning and made to pay a fine for violating the ordinance. If a member of the pro-water works faction wavered a little on his walk home he was taken before the court and a fine collected from him for being drunk.

One man swore at some boys who were stealing his watermelons and he was fined the limit for using unseemly language. A man borrowed a dog from a friend in Junction City and was fined for not paying the tax on the dog. The dog was in Solomon only two days and a night and was then sent home. It was brought back for evidence. Another chap leaned up against a tree in a park and got white-wash on his clothes. He was fined. Another lad desiring to smoke his pipe leaned over and scratched a match on a flagstone on the sidewalk and was fined for defacing public property.

ELUDE DALLAS CHARAVARI; NOT SO HERE

Dr. Roy H. Parker and bride, who were married Thursday in Dallas, S. D. Thursday, arrived in Maryville Friday night to visit Mr. Parker's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Cottrill, who live south of Maryville.

While they were gaily relating their experiences in escaping a charavari in Dallas there was suddenly a deafening noise and they realized they were not escaping in Missouri.

It proved to be a crowd of neighbors who had come over to spend the evening, and they were invited into the house by Mr. and Mrs. Cottrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker will be at home in Kansas City after October 1st.

Have Week-End Guests.

Misses Lillie and Alice Chappell, living west of Maryville, returned from the Maitland fair Friday night. They were accompanied by Miss Edith Chappell of Graham and John Younger of Bolckow, who are their guests.

Ted Sanders of Sheridan was in Maryville Saturday, the guest of Frank Reavis. He is returning home from the Maitland fair.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Holmes and son Harry were in Wilcox Friday on business.

DEATH OF MRS. DICK AT EDGERTON, MO.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Epperson and little daughter of this city left Saturday morning for Edgerton, Mo., in response to a telegram they received early Saturday morning, stating the death of Mrs. Epperson's sister, Mrs. F. M. Dick, who died Friday night at her home, near that place. Mrs. Dick's mother, Mrs. M. McComas, who lives east of the city with another daughter, Mrs. Lewis Tobow, left early Saturday morning in company with Mrs. Tobow from Conception for Edgerton. Mrs. Dick has been in poor health from lung trouble for several years, but it was not thought that her death was near at hand, and the news came as a shock to her family. She was 42 years old and was the eldest daughter of the family. She is survived by her husband, mother, two sisters and two brothers, who are Mrs. M. McComas, Mrs. Lewis Tobow, Mrs. G. L. Epperson and J. H. McComas of Platte county and W. B. McComas of Golden Prairie, Wyo.

Since coming to Maryville Rev. Parvin has materially strengthened the church, and superintended the building of the magnificent flats and in clearing the church building and paving from debt. Rev. Parvin has only recently been appointed a member of the city fire department, and can always be depended on to reach the fire, despite accidents and bumps.

ELMO PICNIC CLOSED FRIDAY EVENING

The Elmo picnic closed Friday evening after what was declared to be one of the most successful series of events since the annual picnic was begun twelve years ago. Hon. David A. Ball of Pike county was a star attraction Thursday and Judge W. H. Crawford and ex-Prosecuting Attorney W. E. Wiles entertained the assembled hosts Friday.

The McFall band furnished good music and the McCoy family furnished a vocal program of popular songs.

An exciting and hotly contested ball game between Elmo and Coin, Ia., was a part of the afternoon program. It resulted in a score of 4 to 3, Coin having the four.

A number of Maryville citizens were in attendance.

IN THE MINK AGAIN

MARYVILLE GETS CLARINDA'S LEAGUE FRANCHISE.

THE FIRST GAME SUNDAY

Maryville's Old Team Will Play Against the New One at Riffe's Park.

Maryville is to be again in the Mink league, but this time only for twelve games. Clarinda will blow up Saturday and their franchise is to be transferred to Maryville, according to what President Carey said to W. J. Hutton Saturday morning. Mr. Carey informed Mr. Hutton that it would not cost anything to get the Clarinda franchise, and that Maryville would be entitled to the $300 guarantee money if she would finish the season with the Clarinda team.

W. C. Pierce, E. H. Balmum, W. J. Hutton and Edward Kealk left Maryville Saturday noon for Clarinda to make arrangements for transferring the Clarinda team to Maryville. All of the Clarinda players are to be paid off today for their services, and all Maryville has to do is to pay off the ball players for the balance of the twelve games.

The Mink league closes on September 9. According to the schedule Shenandoah will play Maryville on August 31, September 1 and 2. All of the rest of the games are away from home, but President Carey said Saturday morning that another series would be transferred here, so as to make six games at home. According to the schedule Clarinda was to play at Falls City on September 4, 5 and 6, and at Humboldt September 7, 8 and 9, and at Shenandoah, August 28, 29 and 30. Which of the teams' series will be transferred to Maryville President Carey did not state Saturday morning.

The reason for the blowing up of the Clarinda team at this time is on account of the poor support and patronage she has been receiving from that town. It is true that the Clarinda team has not been playing good ball of late, but the team has several of the best players in the Mink league. Clarinda is in fifth place in the Mink league.

The first game is to be played with Humboldt on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Riffe's park. The Owis-Elmo game has been postponed to a later date.

When the Maryville franchise was given to Humboldt some weeks ago President Carey took the $300 guarantee money Maryville had and paid over $250 to Falls City, who Maryville was indebted to. So the Maryville team will start out away to the good and at the end of the twelve games will have the Clarinda $300 guarantee money.

WATER MEN HERE

PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER OF COMPANY CONFER.

WITH MAYOR AND COUNCIL

No Agreement Reached, But All Insist They Want to Do Right Thing—Council Meeting Tonight.

The first movement toward a settlement of the water situation in Maryville since the election of last Thursday took place this afternoon in a meeting between the mayor and members of the city council with Edgar L. Street, general manager of the city water works and his brother, who is president of the company.

These gentlemen arrived at noon today and a meeting was arranged immediately, which began about 2 o'clock. Some preliminary discussion was held with no definite results. A meeting of the council will be held this evening when the matter will likely be further discussed. There are also some consulting engineers in the city who desire to present their views to the council, and these will also be heard.

At the meeting this afternoon President Street desired the city to make the company a proposition, but Mayor Robey took the position that the city was ready to buy at a fair price; that it had the money in sight to buy with and would do so, if the price was considered right. This being the case, he felt that it was up to the company to make the proposition which the city would accept or reject. President Street took the position that it was impossible for them to make any proposition not made in the regular way provided for in the franchise, which provided for the appointment of one commissioner by each of the interested parties, and in the event of their failure to agree, a third is to be appointed.

He explained that the company is bonded for more than it is worth, and that the bonds are not yet due, and that the holders of the bonds are widely scattered, most of them being in Europe, and that any plan not provided for in the franchise which is made a part of the bond mortgage, would entail an amount of work and consume a long period of time in getting the individual bondholders to agree.

The mayor and councilmen present were not inclined to view this arrangement favorably, and insisted that if the company would or could get into position to make a definite proposition, the city would have an appraisal made by a competent engineer and then endeavor to trade. The city does not want to be bound by the report of any appraiser. President Street finally suggested that he would be willing to let the city hire a disinterested engineer to meet with Manager Street and see if they could not agree on an appraisal which would not be binding, but should be made the basis for negotiations.

From the remarks of the officers of the water company they seem to hold to the idea that the old franchise provided for a renewal of itself in case the city had not purchased the plant at the time of its expiration. This contention, however, was not seriously argued, but was made the basis for the contention that the sale must be effected in the manner provided for in the old franchise. Mr. Street repeatedly assured the council that they would want no more for the plant than it is worth, or at least no more than they think it is worth.

WILL PROCEED WITH CARE.

The people have declared in no uncertain terms that they want a new deal in the water proposition; and they will naturally be impatient for a speedy conclusion of the matter. While this is the case, and all possible effort should be made to respect the wishes of the people for an early improvement, yet the administration will do well to make haste slowly.

The administration has been charged with a great responsibility and a hard problem. Especially is this true with reference to the solution of the problem of a satisfactory water supply. We are all tired of drinking creek water from the barnyards and cow pastures along the 102, and we want something better. This may be easy and it may be difficult. Plenty of good water may be readily secured from wells, and again it may take some time to get the quality and the necessary amount together. It can be done, and it must be done, but any time that may be necessary to the most complete and intelligent understanding of every movement will not be time wasted.

If the City Water company really wants to sell its plant to the city and will do so upon a basis of its actual worth, its agents should be given a cordial hearing and an early agreement may be reached. If they do not want to deal on a reasonable basis, the only alternative left in compliance with the people's orders will be the erection of an entirely new plant. Whichever it is, let the finished job be a credit to the administration and a pride to the public.

It will be worth many thousands of dollars to Maryville to be able to send the word out that we have an inexhaustible supply of good pure water and abundant protection to all who may want to buy property and reside with us. This is the only thing remaining to make Maryville the ideal home town, and it will soon be a positive fact. The administration knows that the municipal operation of the water plant is the highest guarantee of these things and they propose not only to put into it good business sense but to get more for the people for the money they have appropriated than they have a right to expect.

ensive review of philanthropic work being carried on in the cities. She told how well the work was organized and of how many wealthy people are giving their time and money in doing all they can to better the condition of all who need it. The work is divided into nineteen or twenty classes. Miss Luce gave a close view of the work and showed herself quite familiar with her subject. She gave the health alphabet that is given the teachers to teach the pupils, which is given below as a good thing for Maryville boys and girls to know. Her account of the work done by several divisions of philanthropic work was especially interesting. Certain ones go about the settlements to teach mothers how to care for their babies; the milk dispensers who look after the milk supply and see to it that all in need have milk, without money if they have none, but for a penny a bottle if they can pay that much; those who look up tired and worn-out mothers and place them in the Mt. Wilson home for a rest; and the visiting nurses who hunt up sick people who need attention at a hospital, and those who hunt up the tuberculosis cases. The Public Athletic league is for the men, and corresponds to the rest home for mothers. Then the work of Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., the Big Brother and Big Sister movement, by which so many boys and girls are reached, social purity work, Campfire Boys, which corresponds to the Boy Scouts, all doing all they can to overcome evil influences. Girls in stores are being allowed to study under competent teachers, one hour each day, to specialize in laces or silks, or in anything they wish, so that they may advance and become more valuable to themselves and their employers. Then there are the workers who look after the cripples, the insane and the blind and put them in institutions there for them. All Baltimore's philanthropy is practically a "one-man movement," as it is backed by a rich man named Garrett, who directs it, and devotes his fortune to it.

RECORDS BROKEN AT ELGIN RACES

All But Five Cars Out of Eighteen Starters Finish.

MOTORS AND TIRES ACT WELL

Abbott-Detroit Cars and Ford Have Aurora Cup Fights to Themselves, Running Close Race Throughout. Herr Wins Illinois Cup.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 26.—Thirty thousand spectators were witnesses when the automobile road records of the Elgin course established last year were shattered.

Eighteen cars started in the three events, any one of them a severe test of a car, and all but five finished. Of these, three were running grandly when the winners having crossed the line, they were called off the course.

The races were remarkable for the absence of tire trouble. Not a pneumatic was changed at the repair pits and the number shifted at other parts of the course was a negligible quantity. The motors were exceedingly well behaved and the mechanics, ordinarily busy, spent an idle day.

Thrilling Finishes the Rule.

The finishes were replete with thrills. Two Nationals fought it out for first and second positions to the last inch in the Illinois cup event at 263 miles and finished nine seconds apart.

Two Mercer cars in a field of eleven finished two minutes apart in the Kane county cup run.

Two Abbott-Detroit cars and one Ford had the Aurora cup fight to themselves and ran a close race from start to finish. Not one of the three winning machines stopped for any reason whatsoever throughout the day.

The fastest lap, eight miles, 2,494 feet, made in 0:07:52 last year by Al Livingstone in a National, was lowered by Donald Herr, also a National driver, to 0:07:15, which is at the rate of about seventy miles an hour. Hugh Hughes in a Mercer turned the trick in 0:07:40.

Herr Leads From Start.

Herr started in first place in the Illinois cup event and held it without a quiver throughout. Merz and Jeffkins struggled for second place for 100 miles, when Merz secured it and began crawling upon Herr. At the rate he was going, another lap would have given him the victory. Stickney ran a plucky and speedy race, but lost three laps at the pit with engine trouble.

Hughes, winner of the Kane county cup, started fourth among eleven cars, but it took him only thirty-three miles to gain the lead, which he held to the end. Barnes was in first place for seventeen miles, but thereafter he had to be content with the place position. Pearce gradually won third position from Malsenville and held it during the second half of the contest.

Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal Root.

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic.

Many thousand pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

Little to Show as Concrete Results of Special Session

Reciprocity, Reapportionment, Statehood and Publicity Pass

Tariff Bills, Direct Election of Senators and Arbitration Do Not

THE extra session of the Sixty-second congress attempted much, but owing to people over whom it had no control the results fell short of the effort. The laws it actually passed were Canadian reciprocity, publicity of campaign expenses both before and after election, reapportionment of the house of representatives and statehood with the stinger of recall of judges extracted. The things it tried to pass, but were prevented, were three tariff bills, covering several schedules and parts of other schedules, all of which were vetoed; direct election of senators, which was hung up in conference committee and goes over to the regular session, and the reciprocity treaties with France and England, which were reported out of the foreign relations committee of the senate with amendments, but were not acted on for lack of time. There were minor measures, but these were the most important. In addition there were a new investigation of the Lorimer case, a probe into the election of Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, inquiries into the steel trust and sugar trust and examinations of the bureau of chemistry of the agricultural department in relation to the execution of the pure food laws, into Controller bay (Alaska) affair, into the expenditures of the state department and into the parcels post and postoffice department. The committees having these various inquiries in charge will presumably report to the regular session. At least none of them has reported yet.

While the president called the session to meet solely for the purpose of passing the Canadian reciprocity bill, it was readily recognized at the outset that the legislation would not be confined to that one item. This assumption was confirmed on the opening day of the session, when Speaker Clark laid before the house in a speech the Democratic program.

The progress of legislation through both houses of congress during the session plainly indicates that by far the greater portion of the delays has been the fault of the senate. The house acted with dispatch on its program and by sending much general legislation to the senate early in the session was able to take long recesses in May, June and July while the ways and means committee framed the tariff legislation. The table of legislation follows:

Schedule of Legislation.

Canadian Reciprocity Bill.—Introduced April 12; reported to the house April 13; passed the house April 21; received by the senate and referred to the committee on finance April 24; reported to the senate July 13; passed by the senate July 22; signed by the president July 26.

Wool Revision Bill.—Introduced in the house June 2; reported to the house June 6; passed the house June 20; received by the senate and referred to the committee on finance June 21; reported to the senate without hearings, on motion of Senator Gore, June 22; passed the senate July 27; house conferees appointed Aug. 1; senate conferees appointed Aug. 2; conference report adopted by the house Aug. 14; conference report adopted by the senate Aug. 15; vetoed by the president Aug. 17.

Free List Bill.—Introduced in the house April 12; reported to the house April 19; passed the house May 8; received by the senate and referred to the senate committee on finance May 9; reported to the senate on motion of Senator Gore and without hearings June 22; passed the senate Aug. 1; house conferees appointed Aug. 3; senate conferees appointed Aug. 4; conference report adopted by the senate Aug. 16; conference report adopted by the house Aug. 17; vetoed by the president Aug. 18.

Cotton Revision Bill.—Introduced in the house July 26; reported to the house July 27; passed the house Aug. 3; received by the senate and referred to the committee on finance Aug. 4; reported to the senate, on motion, Aug. 10; passed the senate, with amendments adding iron and steel schedule, reciprocal coal with Canada and chemicals and machinery used in the manufacture of cotton goods, Aug. 17; senate bill agreed to by the house Aug. 21; vetoed by the president Aug. 22.

Statehood Bill (first).—Introduced in the house April 4; reported to the house May 12; passed the house May 23; received by the senate and referred to the committee on territories May 25; reported to the senate July 11; passed the senate Aug. 9 (legislative day Aug. 8); Senate bill accepted by the house Aug. 10; vetoed by the president Aug. 15.

Statehood Bill (second).—Introduced in the senate Aug. 16; reported to the senate Aug. 18; passed the senate Aug. 18; received by the house Aug. 18; passed by the house Aug. 19.

Apportionment.—Introduced in the house April 10; reported to the house April 25; passed the house April 27; received by the senate and referred to the committee on census, April 28; reported to the senate July 6; passed the senate Aug. 3; senate bill concurred in by the house Aug. 4; signed by the president Aug. 8.

Political Reform Measures.

Resolution Providing for the Direct Election of Senators.—Introduced in the house April 5; reported to the house April 12; passed the house April 13; received by the senate and referred to the committee on the judiciary April 17; reported to the senate May 1; passed the senate June 12; senate conferees appointed June 27; house conferees appointed July 5. This resolution is still in conference.

Publicity of Campaign Funds.—Introduced in the house April 10; reported to the house April 14; passed by the house April 14; received by the senate and referred to the committee on privileges and elections April 15; reported to the senate June 19; passed by the senate July 17; house conferees appointed Aug. 1; senate conferees appointed Aug. 2; conference report agreed to by the senate Aug. 16; by the house Aug. 17. Signed by the president Aug. 19.

Of the important legislation or legislative action remaining the senate has not acted upon the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France, which were reported to the senate on Aug. 12.

The bone of contention in the bill for direct election of senators is the senate amendment placing senatorial elections under federal control. This is the same amendment which defeated it in the previous congress.

The chief difficulty in the way of the arbitration treaties is the desire of the senate to retain its control over what shall be arbitrated and to exempt certain matters from arbitration, such as the Monroe doctrine and the admission of Asiatics into the United States.

The reason for the first veto of the statehood bill, as already intimated, was the recall of judges feature in the Arizona constitution. This was eliminated in the second bill.

Waiting For Tariff Board.

The chief reasons assigned by President Taft for the veto of the tariff bills were that they were not scientifically and carefully drawn, that they were not in harmony with the protective principle and that the tariff board had not yet reported. He promised that before the next session the board would report as to the wool schedule and that he would then recommend revision in accordance with such report.

Trust investigations were begun during the session, and they are still in progress. Constructive legislation to bear on federal regulation of corporations is regarded as certain to come as a result of the inquiries, and plans already have been instituted to revise the anti-trust laws.

Special investigations into the United States Steel corporation and the American Sugar Refining company were undertaken to discover whether these industrial organizations operated in violation of the anti-trust and interstate commerce laws. The inquiries have been exhaustive and still are in progress, though the sugar committee, headed by Representative Hardwick of Georgia, practically has concluded its work and will meet in the fall to draft its report.

The Steel corporation inquiry developed many interesting facts, but the predominant feature of the inquiry was the emphatic public declarations of great financiers that the Sherman anti-trust law is too archaic to deal with modern business methods. They insisted that there must be new legislation to regulate the corporations of the country.

Chairman Stanley of Kentucky plans to resume taking testimony in the fall and hopes to have as witnesses Andrew Carnegie and J. Pierpont Morgan. Among the prominent men who testified at great length before the committee are former President Roosevelt, Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the Steel corporation; John W. Gates, since deceased; Grant B. Schley, Charles M. Schwab, George W. Perkins, Lewis Cass Ledyard, L. C. Hanna and Oakleigh Thorne. Colonel Roosevelt voluntarily appeared before the committee in New York to defend his course in approving the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the Steel corporation during the financial panic of 1907.

During the inquiry Judge Gary made the startling proposal that the government be given control of great corporations, even to the extent of regulating prices. His assertion that the Sherman law was "archaic" was reiterated by other witnesses. George W. Perkins said constructive legislation was absolutely essential to the needs of the great corporations of the country. Publicity of corporation affairs was advocated strongly by him as one means of eradicating existing trust evils and to retain the great benefits of trust operation.

Friction in the department of agriculture over the enforcement of the pure food laws has been exposed by one of many investigations originating in the Democratic house, and a countrywide issue is raised over the question of whether the activities of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the government's pure food expert, have been made ineffective.

Committees of the house on expenditures in the government departments were directed in special resolutions to inquire thoroughly into the affairs of the government. The Democrats announced that there would be a general housecleaning, that extravagance was rampant and that economies would be proposed. Predictions of many sensations were made. For many weeks the investigations progressed, and none of the committees has completed its task.

Much other work started by committees must await the action of the next session.

The question of coal lands in Alaska, the Controller bay controversy, in which President Taft's name figured, and all the kindred questions of government ownership and control allied therewith will be inherited by the session which begins next December. The Alaskan syndicate charges made by Delegate Wickersham of Alaska against Attorney General Wickersham came to naught in this session, but doubtless will come up in some form next session. Bills were introduced providing for a coal land leasing system.

One of the investigations which attracted national attention because of its rather startling and sensational disclosures was the Day portrait voucher investigation by the house committee on expenditures in the state department. As a result of its findings the committee recommended the dismissal from the service of William H. Michael, former chief clerk of the state department, now American consul general at Calcutta, and of Thomas Morrison, disbursing clerk of the department, but finally the whole matter was referred to President Taft for such action as he thought proper.

Bryan's Attack on Underwood.

Proceedings in the house under caucus rule, led by Mr. Underwood, precipitated a sharp controversy between Mr. Underwood and William Jennings Bryan. Mr. Bryan was aroused because of the failure of the house caucus to include in its tariff program at first the revision of the iron and steel schedule. He attacked Mr. Underwood on this ground, but the latter received an overwhelming vote of confidence when the matter was made an issue in the house. During the controversy the ways and means committee was at work on an iron and steel revision plan, but it remained for the senate to act on this schedule. With the acquiescence of house leaders the senate attached an iron and steel schedule to the cotton bill.

The house concurred in this amendment.

When the special session convened on April 4 the house was organized by the Democratic ways and means committee, and this body made the committee assignments. The new system eliminated what was known for many years as the czarism of the speaker. The committee also directed the deliberations of the Democratic caucus and framed the legislative program of the session.

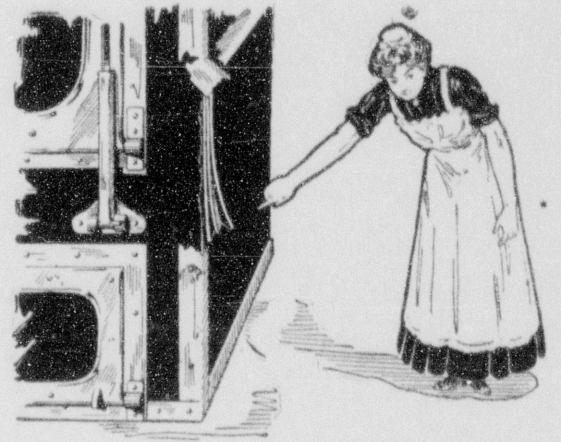

In the senate, with many of the old leaders missing, a remarkable alliance was formed between the Democrats and insurgent Republicans, led by La Follette, Cummins and Bristow. After the first few weeks of the session it worked harmoniously until the closing week, when occurred one of the most spectacular legislative upsets in many years. The severance of the coalition came on consideration of the cotton bill. When Senator Cummins withdrew an amendment to attach iron and steel revision to the cotton bill the Democrats seized on it as their own and were able to pass it when regular Republicans refrained from voting or absented themselves from the chamber.

One of the gratifying features of the session is that partisanship has been little in evidence. On Canadian reciprocity the Democrats supported almost to a man, and on the tariff revision bills the progressive Republicans and Democrats worked together. While the last of laws passed was not long, the extra session laid the groundwork for important work in the regular session.

Yet, while there was little partisan politics of the old variety in the session, there was presidential politics in almost every move made. Engaged in this game were three groups, the Democrats, the progressive Republicans and the administration. It is too early yet to foretell which one of these elements had the best of it. That will not be entirely clear until the regular session has completed its work. The one point made clear by the extra session is that party lines as they have existed in the past have been readjusted, or, rather, are still in process of readjustment. To students this is the most important feature of the session, and no review of its work would be complete without it.

Of the bills actually passed Canadian reciprocity still remains to be ratified by Canada, the statehood bill will probably result in the admission of Arizona and New Mexico in time to take part in the election next year, the campaign publicity bill will inevitably result in less money being spent in congressional and senatorial elections, and the reapportionment bill will make of the house a body of 433 members, or 435 after the admission of the two new states. The size of the electoral college and of the representation to both national conventions will be correspondingly enlarged.

ATWOOD ENDS LONG FLIGHT

Aviator Reaches New York After 1,365 Mile Trip.

BREAKS DISTANCE RECORD.

Sails Over Water Craft, Ferryboat and Ocean Liner While Crowds Cheer. Will Start on Transcontinental Trip About Oct. 1.

Summary of the finish of Atwood's St. Louis-New York flight: Distance covered in airline 1,265 miles. Total distance, including detours around New York and other places, 1,365 miles. Started from St. Louis 8:05 a. m., Aug. 14. Finished Governor's Island 2:38 p. m., Aug. 25. Flying time for entire trip 28 hours and 31 minutes. Number of flights en route, 20. Average distance of each flight, 63½ miles. Beats previous world's record by 101 miles, not crediting him with the extra 100 miles which he claims for detours.

New York, Aug. 26.—Sailing serenely over New York's myriad water craft, his ferryboats and ocean liners, Harry Atwood, the Boston aviator, arrived in New York in his aeroplane, the first man in history to travel as far as from St. Louis to New York by way of Chicago in a heavier-than-air machine.

Atwood's safe landing on Governor's Island, after flying down from Nyack, N. Y., above the Hudson river through a fog which made him only dimly visible to the million eyes that watched him, was a notable incident in the annals of the air. He not only broke the world's record, covering 1,265 miles in an airline, or perhaps 100 more miles with his detours, but he flew all the way in the same biplane and with no important mishaps.

Atwood's flight is comparable only to that made by fast trains, for he covered the distance in an actual flying time of 28 hours and 31 minutes.

Atwood's final lap in his long journey was a glide, twenty-five miles from Nyack, N. Y., where he stopped over night. He landed, smiling, hatless and hungry, in the arms of a handful of United States army officers and men, who hailed him as America's greatest aviator.

Thousands Disappointed.

Atwood's coming was unexpected on Governor's Island, as it had been heralded that he would land at the Sheephead Bay race track, where thousands lined vantage points, looking skyward. Atwood expressed regret at their disappointment.

"I expect to go to Boston tomorrow," he said. "We will take my machine apart here and ship it on to Boston. I do not intend to do any more flying around New York until I return from my trip across the continent. I shall probably start for Los Angeles or San Francisco about Oct. 1, but haven't decided the exact date yet."

TWO SETBACKS FOR BEATTIE

Court Overrules Motion to Exclude "Dear Kid" Letter.

Chesterfield, Va., Aug. 26.—The defense in the Beattie trial met with two setbacks at the opening of court here. Judge Walter A. Watson quickly overruled a motion to exclude the "Dear Kid" letter written by Beattie to Bulah Binford and followed this by denying a motion which questioned the wording of the indictment as to the wound being in the "face" instead of the skull or brain of the victim, as shown by the autopsy.

George Jarrell, a Richmond detective, was called as the first witness. He was associated in investigating the case with Detectives Wiltshire and Wrenn. Jarrell was put on the stand to complete for the prosecution the description of the scene of the crime, the prisoner's description and story of the bearded highwayman.

REAL VACATION FOR TAFT

President Refuses to Receive Callers for Two Weeks Beginning Monday.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 26.—The president decided to deny himself to all callers for two weeks, beginning Monday. He will keep close to the Myopia golf course and his automobile. To-day he will speak to the Essex County Republican club at Hamilton, Mass. The president leaves for the west on Sept. 16. The president will celebrate his fifty-fourth birthday on Sept. 15.

Puts Ban on Mixed Eggs.

St. Louis, Aug. 26.—The St. Louis Butter, Egg and Poultry exchange has been notified of a forthcoming order by Dr. W. P. Cutler, state food and drug commissioner, which will put a ban on the "current receipts" or "shippers' count" system of buying eggs in the wholesale market. Dr. Cutler has ruled that the practice of buying good and bad eggs mixed in consignments from the country and then weeding out the bad eggs by the candling process is in violation of the Missouri food law.

TWENTY-FIVE DIE IN TRAIN WRECK

Lehigh Passenger Carrying Veterans Goes Into Ditch.

SIXTY PERSONS ARE INJURED.

Two Cars Roll Down Embankment Sixty Feet in Height—Two Engines Pulling Coaches in Effort to Make Speed—Defective Rails the Cause.

Manchester, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Twenty-five persons were killed and about sixty hurt when passenger train No. 4 on the Lehigh Valley railroad jumped the track here.

The cars rolled down an embankment sixty feet in height and it was in these cars that the greatest mortality occurred.

The wreck was due to defective rails. The engines and two forward coaches passed over the bad spot, which was about 100 feet east of the station, without accident, but when the diner struck the defective rails they spread and the last two coaches were thrown from the track and rolled down the embankment.

Several persons in the dining car were killed, but the largest number of dead were in the last two coaches.

Following is a partial list of the dead: Harry Backer, brakeman; Edgar Pangburn, Ellis Island, N. Y.; Charles Hicks, Newark, N. J.; Mrs. H. Zudek, Philadelphia; Mrs. C. C. Johnston, Philadelphia; George S. Guncle, Smithville, N. J.; E. Power, Thomas Murray, fireman; Colonel D. M. Belch, Los Angeles.

Veterans on Train.

A number of veterans returning from the Grand Army encampment at Rochester were on the train. Most of the victims are old men and women.

The train was forty minutes late and was running fast, hauled by two powerful engines, in an effort to make up lost time. It does not stop in Manchester.

The third and fourth cars plunged over the side of the bridge to the outlet below. The third car struck flat on its side in the water, while the fourth landed on its front end. The remaining five cars left the rails, but did not go off the bridge. The concussion threw every passenger from the seats and scores received slight injuries. The cars in the creek were crowded and it was in these the casualties occurred.

TRIMBLE NAMED COMMANDER

Illinois Man Will Direct Affairs of Grand Army for Next Year.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The forty-fifth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic came to an end with the installation of Judge Harvey M. Trimble as commander in chief.

Judge Trimble announced these appointments: Adjutant general, Charles B. Enoch, Chicago; quartermaster general, Colonel D. R. Stowitz, Buffalo, N. Y.; reappointed; judge advocate general, W. A. Kelcham, Indianapolis; assistant quartermaster general, J. Henry Holcomb, Philadelphia.

Los Angeles, Cal., was selected by an almost unanimous vote for the 1912 encampment. In general order No. 1, issued by the new commander in chief, the official Grand Army of the Republic headquarters were established at Memorial hall, Chicago.

The encampment endorsed a resolution offered by the Pennsylvania department for a universal observance of Memorial day for five minutes, beginning at noon, whereby all labor and traffic shall cease, bells shall be tolled and the people stand bareheaded. The experiment proved successful when tried last Memorial day in Philadelphia.

STRIKE RESTS WITH MEN

Vice President Kruttschnitt Visits Omaha and Discusses Situation.

Omaha, Aug. 26.—En route to San Francisco and traveling in the private car Gaudalope of the Southern Pacific, which was attached to Illinois Central train No. 1, Julius Kruttschnitt, vice president and director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman railway system, arrived in Omaha and an hour and a half later left for the west.

Asked if a strike on the Harriman system was expected, Mr. Kruttschnitt replied:

"That is something that is up to the men. We are not seeking, neither are we bringing on a strike. We have treated with our men, and they, for a large portion of them, are familiar with the conditions as they exist at the present time."

Asked if the Harriman system would recognize the proposed demands of the federated labor organizations, Mr. Kruttschnitt answered that he had nothing to say upon this subject.

Master Bakers Elect Officers.

Kansas City, Aug. 26.—George F. Clarke of Jamestown, N. Y., was elected president of the National Association of Master Bakers at the final session of the annual convention of that body here. M. J. Mulgrew of Duquesne, Pa., vice president, and Charles E. Abbott of New York, treasurer, were re-elected. B. F. Whitecar of Philadelphia was chosen secretary. Louisville, Ky., was chosen as next year's meeting place.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I am now taking orders and delivering winter coals. The prices range from 50 cents a ton up to $10.50 per ton.

Twenty-three years experience in the business of buying and selling coal leads me to think I can come nearer giving you value received for your money than others engaged in the business as a side line. As I give my entire time to the business I should give you better results, cleaner coal and better service. As I sell for cash I should give you more for your money. As I do not hire solicitors to take orders at so much per ton—which you, of course, have to pay—I should sell cheaper. In fact there are so many reasons why you should at least talk to me before placing your order for coal this fall I can not enumerate them here. If you want coal of any description or kind at any price as above, I am anxious to serve you at the right price.

Yours truly,

F. G. SHOEMAKER.

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, without even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.
